Should Evergreen have the "button bar" visible by default for all staff at login? (This can be toggled on or off for each staff client upon login). The button bar allows you to go directly to the function of the button by clicking on it.

Note: screenshots of how it would be when all PINES staff first login are below. The first screenshot shows how it would be with the button bars viewed immediately by all at login. The second screen shot shows how it would be if the button bar is off at log in. Individual staff can turn the button bar on or off once logged in. These are the only buttons in ver 1.6 and the viewing would be all of them or none of them. There may be others in future versions.

The place to toggle the button bar on or off is located under Admin and is called "Toggle Button Bar".
